DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 18, 19, 26 and 27 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form. Linear low-density polyethylene, very low-density polyethylene and functionalized polyolefins are not homopolymers. See Polymer Science Dictionary, Second Edition, Mark Alger, Chapman & Hall, pp.290, 599 (enclosed).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 12-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for non-halogenated flame-retardants, does not reasonably provide enablement for all flame-retardants. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. See page 1, lines 20-23 of the instant specification. Applicants did not respond to this rejection in their response.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

5. Claims 12-14, 20, 28 and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nishihara et al. 6,093,760.

6. Using the broadest possible interpretation of the instant claims, polystyrene is a polyolefin. See Polymer Science Dictionary, Second Edition, Mark Alger, Chapman & Hall, page 433 (enclosed). The rejection is maintained.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicants' arguments filed 12/14/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The examiner does not want to make this case to become the "Case of the Dueling Dictionaries", however while applicants can be their own lexicographers, they cannot interpret the same word both broadly and narrowly at the same time. There is nothing in the specification to exclude polystyrene as an olefin homopolymer. Alger says that polydienes and polystyrene, belonging a wider group of polymers, which are sometimes included as polyolefins, are normally excluded from the group, but since applicants include polydienes they cannot exclude polystyrenes. Furthermore, the following U.S. Patents clearly include polystyrenes among polyolefins at the cited places: Kinoshita et al. 5,439,976, column 7, lines 25-26, Hanada et al. 5,922,808, column 6, lines 21-22, Johnson et al. 6,218,493, column 71, lines 55-56, Higuchi et al. 6,780,483, column 6, lines 22-23, Cicchetti et al. 5,948,837, column 1, lines 12-14 and Agarwal et al. 6,780,936, column 4, lines 7-8. As far as the contradiction between Alger and the patents is concerned, when a prior art reference appear to be conflicting, each reference must be weighed for its power to suggest a solution to the artisan of ordinary skill. Thus, reference "B" even if tending to discredit reference "A", cannot remove "A" from the prior art. Patents are part of the literature of the art and are relevant for all they contain. In re Young 18 USPQ2d 1089, (Fed. Cir. 1991). The rejection is maintained.

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicants are reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
